Epworth League Social

The Senior Epworth League will have a monthly social this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. Dexter Phillips. A good time is promised for every one. All are cordially invited.

Miss Carolyn Miller, who was the charming guest, a few weeks ago of Miss Sue Moore of this city, passed thru the city today on her way to Tallahassee, where she will study at the Florida College for Women this term. A number of Miss Miller's friends met the train, and she held quite a little reception until she had to resume her journey.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Dodge arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, on their way home from their vacation. Mr. Dodge went on to Clearwater, where he will resume his duties as pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Dodge remained in the city for a few days visit to her mother, Mrs. W. V. Newsom.

Mrs. George Campbell, Miss Alice Campbell and Mrs. George Davis will entertain the Presbyterian monthly social next Monday, Sept. 18th, at the residence of Mrs. Campbell. All the congregation and their friends are cordially invited to come and each one is requested to represent a flower.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Pacetti and children leave tomorrow for St. Augustine to spend a few days, after which they will go to Georgia to visit relatives. On their return they will go down the East Coast to Miami for a short visit. The trip will be made in their Maxwell car.

Mrs. Sylvan McElroy and little son arrived from Orlando Wednesday, and will be the guests of Mrs. McElroy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dozier, here for a few days. Dr. McElroy is fishing at Daytona Beach, and will come by for Mrs. McElroy and his little son on his way home.

Rev. J. R. Herndon will arrive from Johnson City, Tenn., tomorrow, and will preach to the congregation of the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening. Mr. Herndon's family will remain in Tennessee for a few days longer, but will probably be here next week.

Mrs. M. W. Carruth with her daughter, Miss Dorothy, left via the Coast Line yesterday for Charleston, where they will visit for several weeks.—Tampa Times.

Miss Dorothy Carruth is the young lady who was the charming guest of Miss Agnes Burford a few weeks ago.

Mr. J. R. Martin and Miss Sara Pearl Martin went to DeLand today to spend two or three days with Mr. Martin's sister, Mrs. J. F. Williamson. Miss Sara Pearl Martin will leave Monday for Atlanta to be present at the opening of her college Tuesday.

Miss Marjorie Taylor who for the last two years has been the very efficient cashier at Frank's store, has resigned her position. Miss Taylor went to Reddick yesterday, to visit her sister, Mrs. W. B. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Boring and their two pretty little girls passed through today on their way from their home at Lakeland, to Reddick, to attend the funeral of Dr. Carswell.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Mayo have returned from their visit to Jacksonville. They made the trip comfortably and expeditiously in their Maxwell car.

Mrs. T. J. Nixon will leave today to visit her brother, Dr. Blalock in Madison. When she returns she will be accompanied by her mother.—Tallahassee Democrat.

A good many of our young folks are going down to Belleview this evening, to attend the ball to be given at the clubhouse there.

Since the library opened Monday, 107 persons have taken our cards for books. Mrs. C. L. Bittinger took out the first card.

Mrs. E. T. Helvenston and children returned today from their pleasant sojourn of two months at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Leavengood are the happy parents of a little baby girl, born this morning.

Mrs. Elmer DeCamp has returned from a visit to Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Weaver in Dade City.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Moore are moving today into their former home on Fort King avenue.

A good crowd saw and enjoyed the "Big Sister," at the Temple last night. The exteriors, made on one of the large estates of California, were especially attractive.

Today there will be a Keystone comedy at the Temple, Mabel Normand and Roscoe Arbuckle in "She Did and She Didn't"; another installment of "The Girl and the Game," and a Hearst news pictorial.

Tyrone Power and an all-star cast will be seen here tomorrow in "The Price of Power," a Triangle Fine Arts feature.

Announcement is made from the Lasky studios in California that Geraldine Farrar's next appearance on the screen will be as Joan of Arc. This picture will be released this fall.

REMINISCENCE

road as we hurried on after those that were still making time towards their entrenched encampment. Our skirmish line followed them rapidly, firing as we went, while our line of battle followed us in easy supporting distance. In a short while our skirmish line reached the edge of an open field which had been planted in sweet potatoes and the potato beds thrown up high, ran parallel with our line. There was nothing then to obstruct the view of the enemy's camp behind their entrenchments and in the camp there was a big stir and much confusion and showed that they had been as much surprised as their picket line. Officers and men were hustling around half dressed, hurrying to load three pieces of light artillery which had their muzzles sticking out over the low embankment towards us and about 400 yards away from us, but as no order for us to halt had been given we pushed right on. We could plainly see the men at the lanyards and understand when they were given the command to fire, and just at the right moment the skirmishers would lie down between the potato beds and hear the grapeshots pattering into them and then quickly rising we went forward again until the moment they would repeat the operation, and we kept on at it until we were within about 300 yards of the enemy's entrenchments when we heard the bugle call to rally on the center four, and then to take our place in the line of battle. We were disappointed at that for the enemy was badly demoralized and men were running away towards the Stono river to get under the cover of their gunboats, and we believed, and always will, that if we had not been halted that our skirmishers would have gone right into the enemy's camp and captured those three pieces of artillery and a lot of prisoners, but Gen. Beauregard's order to Gen. Hagood was to make a reconnaissance and by no means bring on an engagement and he had to obey his superior, and so it was the skirmishers took their place in the line of battle and we all deliberately marched away in columns of fours while the enemy's gunboats moved up Stono and threw shells at us as long as they could reach us. I do not know what the federal thought of our conduct but I do know that they hurriedly evacuated the island that night and left a large lot of sugar, coffee, hams and other commissary stores behind which we went in the next day, gathered up and enjoyed very much. The Edisto Rifles in this affair had two men wounded, Luther Myers and Sam Hall, the same who with myself reached the picket line in advance of the rest of the skirmishers. It was in this affair that I saw two of the Germans of the band along with us with the bayonets on sticks, but they soon got guns from the dead of the enemy when we crossed through the hedge fence. At this time there was an English officer named Cockins drilling the Edisto Rifles in the bayonet exercises and he went along with us also, and claims to have killed two of the enemy with his pistol. As we passed through the hedge row where the reserve of the federal pickets had been lying, I picked up two good canteens, as my own was empty, and turning one up to my mouth to drink water—as I supposed—I was both surprised and gratified to find that both canteens were full up with genuine coffee sweetened and creamed! I sure enjoyed it that hot July day. At the same place I picked them up, others of the boys got rubber coats, army blankets, etc. I am going to stop here as I see you had to split my last number.
